TALLAHASSEE, Fla., March, 10, 2008 – Flightline Group, Inc. today announced the addition of a new Customer Service Manager to the Flightline Tallahassee FBO team. Allison Ohlinger has been promoted to the leadership position of Customer Service Manager.

Our customer's expectations for the quality and responsiveness of our services is constantly being raised by their experiences inside aviation and outside of the aviation world. To stay competitive, it is important that Flightline strives to meet and exceed our customer's already high expectations, an increasingly difficult challenge. Simply parking and fueling our customer's aircraft is no longer enough. We must provide a personal level of service that delights each customer to make an impact in this highly competitive marketplace.

In an effort to further improve our customer's experiences while here at Flightline, we are adding the key position of Manager of Customer Service that will focus on this goal. After an exhaustive search, and consideration of numerous internal and external candidates, we are excited to announce that Allison Ohlinger has been promoted to the new position of Manager of Customer Service. Allison will be shifting from her role in the Aircraft Sales Department to serve as the new Manager of Customer Service. For the last year, Allison served as an Aircraft Sales Coordinator for our SouthEast Piper and HondaJet sales activities. Key to her success in her sales role was her ability work with our customers to ensure their complete satisfaction in their new aircraft, in the Aircraft Sales process and with the services our team provides. These skills, in addition to the year she served as a Customer Service Representative, provide a unique base to allow her to work with the Customer and Line Service teams to take our customer's satisfaction and experience at Flightline to a new level in Tallahassee and the industry. Allison is also a licensed pilot and holds a B.A. in International Affairs and History from Florida State University.

"Flightline Tallahassee has consistently received high marks from our customers for excellent customer service and satisfaction. Our goal though is to continue to raise the bar to far exceed our customers satisfaction and provide an extraordinary experience while at our FBO in Tallahassee." said C. Daniel Langston, President and COO of
